

To Whomever It May Concern:

August 1, 2016

I am honored to write this letter of recommendation for Susan Goers. I first met Susan in the summer of 2014 as we were preparing to open a new charter school. She was brought on board as the curriculum director and quickly established herself as an expert in all matters related to education and learning.

Susan demonstrates an insatiable drive for learning and teaching. She works well with both peers and students. Susan has established herself as the go to person at Utah Military Academy for all things related to the classroom experience. She is well versed in pedagogy, classroom management and curriculum and willingly shares her experience and knowledge with others.

Mrs. Goer's commitment to the school community had been demonstrated by her consistent efforts to put in the time it takes to ensure the success of Utah Military Academy. She is one of the first staff in the door and one of the last to leave. Much of her research has been directed at ways to improve the function of our school and the education of our students.

Susan is a lifelong learner who understands that there is a world of knowledge out there to be found. When issues arise at school she uses her research skills and knowledge base to find possible solutions then brings them to the team for revision and action. She is a valued member of the team and listens as well as provides insight.

Susan would be a positive asset to your university and a credit to your organization.

Sincerely,

Lynn Hinckley, LTC (USA Retired)
